

Glimpses of the future

What is it used for?

Looking on bright versions of the future of an idea / concept / prototype.

The basic idea is: you go on a mind journey in a future that is at least five years ahead. In that case It is a very bright future coined by an optimistic view: Everything has turned out in a way that has positive effect to as many as possible people.

Elements of this future are transformed in pictures using (a combination of):

- Words (e. g. postcards, tweets, news feed from the future)
- Self-drawn pictures or collage (e. g. how social spaces have changed)
- Building bricks or natural materials (e. g. as impression of how people / parts of a machine act together)
- Furniture-storming (e. g. an enlarged version of a prototype)
- Body-storming (e. g. looking in changes of wellbeing) and/or spontaneous small dialogues
